Expectations for the New Year by Pastor John

The new year is often met with what author Charles Dickens called "Great Expectations." Aside from the typical New Years Resolutions, which are often soon broken, some people may decide to look for a new job, a new place to live, to get married, have a baby—or get divorced. Some may have been told they will receive a raise. Others may have been told that their jobs are being eliminated. People's expectations of the new year can vary greatly, depending on their circumstances.

Sometimes our expectations can be abruptly halted: for example, what were your expectations in January of 2020?

One think I know I can expect. I can expect that God will go with me—with us—through whatever the new year brings, just like the traditional vows made in marriage: for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health...." Except in God's case, the end clause reads, "for all eternity." Jesus said it well, in saying farewell to his disciples, "I will be with you always, to the close of the age." That is my greatest expectation for this and every new year!

Church Council Highlights from December 5th

Finances: A report was presented by treasurer, Linda Sanden. Outstanding bills at this time total $10,013.63. A cash flow shortage in November resulted in staff not being paid at the end of the month.

Worship Schedule: Joint service with PdD planned for Dec. 17 with LOGOS kids singing. No service the morning of the 24th but a candlelight service will be held on Christmas Eve at 4:00pm. Pastor John will be gone Dec. 31 and Pastor Stensgard will be preaching that morning.

Pueblo de Dios: Repairs for the van used to transport LOGOS kids is partially completed. PdD, Augustana, and the Synod have keys. A joint executive meeting for PdD and Augustana is planned for Dec. 10.

Property Management: A report from the insurance adjuster regarding the bell tower and ceiling damage was reviewed. No coverage is expected based on the report. Arrangements for snow clearing this winter have been set up.

Other: The advent fair held on Nov. 26th went well. Volunteers are needed for Food-to-You distribution at East Side Lutheran on Dec. 14. Donations of Mac & Cheese and toilet paper are requested for January. Nancy Kremin's report from the pre-Thanksgiving meal held on Nov. 12th was reviewed.

New Business: A partially completed draft budget for 2024 was discussed. The budget will be finalized at the Jan. 9th council meeting and presented at the congregational meeting on January 28.
